

STUART HALL MEMORIAL

Stuart Hall, teacher, cultural theorist and campaigner, born 3 February 1932; died 10 February 2014.

Stuart Hall's partner, Catherine Hall, and his children, Becky and Jess Hall, have organized a memorial for him on November 29, 2014 (2:00 - 6:30 PM, GMT) to be held in London, UK.

Nandita Sharma, current Director of ICSP, has been invited to attend. The family has indicated that over 900 people are expected.

Stuart Hall's memorial will be live streamed and the details will be listed on The Stuart Hall Memorial website later in November

At the memorial, Nandita Sharma will be discussing the event on her Twitter account - which you can "follow": @nsharma101

Former Director, Professor Ruth Hsu (English), organized a memorial shortly after he passed away. The ICSP Steering Committee believes another one is merited on the occasion of the international memorial in London.

When? Wednesday, December 3, 2014
Time? 12:00 - 1:15PM
Where? Burns Hall 2118 (East-West Center)

Faculty at UHM who have worked with Stuart Hall's ideas, concepts and methods and those who were his personal or professional friends and colleagues will be invited to speak of Hall's contributions. Director Nandita Sharma will discuss how people at Stuart Hall's memorial remembered him.

Light refreshments will be provided.
